She'll come he knows
When everybody starts to go
The girl with those dragonfly eyes

She comes alone
And finds a place to make her own
The girl with those dragonfly eyes

There's something about those eyes
That keep him awake day and night
Though she doesn't know
He's been catching every tear she cries
The girl with those dragonfly eyes

He could wait
Even if she was hours late
The girl with those dragonfly eyes

Cause something about those eyes
That keep him awake day and night
Though she doesn't know
He's been catching every tear she cries
The girl with those dragonfly eyes
The girl with those dragonfly eyes

There's something about those eyes
That keep him alive day and night
Though she doesn't know
He's been catching every tear she cries
The girl with those dragonfly eyes
