

Hayley Sales "I'd Rather Be Lost"

Visit "I'd Rather Be Lost" on MotoLyrics.com

Falling leaves answer the night's desire to not be alone
The wind blows
Takes me along to places I wish I could go
Places I wish I could go

Autumn rain dances like notes on top of the gravel-stone road
I listen close
Hearing a voice
Telling me that I should go
Telling me that I should go

Cause a rolling stone
That does not roam
Will start to loose its roll
And I'd rather be lost

I grab a coat and open the door
Leaving the fire behind
I let the wind drift me along to places I hope that I find Places I hope that I find

Cause a rolling stone
That does not roam
Will start to loose its roll
And I'd rather be lost

I'd rather be lost
I will gather no moss here

A rolling stone
That does not roam
Will start to loose it's roll
And I'd rather be lost

Visit Hayley Sales page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.