we were gonna drive across the country live in spain and italy and we were gonna climb to the top of the eiffel tower and stay up all night for the meteor showers

but we are still young enough
and we've still got time
it's not too late to keep these plans we made we were gonna swim with sharks memorize the pattern of the stars and we were gonna fall in love and realize sometimes that's not enough

its not to late
don't close your eyes
I know you're tired
but I see hope
in all you aspire
what you don't know
you may never know if you let this moment go

to keep these plans we've made
it's not too late
