

Hayley Taylor "Waking"

Visit "Waking" on MotoLyrics.com

Pillow's soft, covers warm and it's getting easier not to wake you up don't you know that I know all of the reasons that you have got to go and I've been trying to save you I've been trying to change you but I can't take watching you slip away

In your dreams, nothing's real and there are no scars or permanent marks to bear lights are low, heart of stone but it makes the minutes not seem so infinitely cold

and I've been trying to save you I've been trying to blame you and I can't take watching you slip away cause there's just no cure no house on a hill no love that's enough if you're not fulfilled

and I've been trying to save you
I've been trying to change you
but I can't take watching you slip away

Been trying to save you
been trying to save you
been trying to save you I've been trying to save you

Visit Hayley Taylor page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.