Why don't you take me back to the beginning of this movie before the scenery changed what we could be now, we aren't the same as we were

Before the problems if I knew any better, I could solve them now the ending is beginning to look grim why couldn't I take time to learn

No, it's not real life but it's creeping in I hate to see you leave me over and over again so, reset the lights and i'll play along when they say action we'll leave out the words that don't belong anywhere in this movie song

Let's write a sequel based on actual events, places, and people you and me, just for instance and we fall in love there's no giving up in the end and I can't take the heartbreak of knowing what's to come I'm tearing out all the pages where we come undone and all these character flaws become no flaws at all Quiet on the set then we hit our marks we've changed the ending to resemble how the movie starts Throw away your script you won't be needing it all these dreams could not exist if real love weren't better than this
