I'm looking through eyes wide as the sun
They tend to look back to when I was younger
Though whenever I keep them open too long
They feel the burn and begin to water

If I could find the one
That I'd never deserve to love,
Then I'd keep her in my heart
And let her tear it, tear it apart

[Chorus]
You make my heart sing
Sing it out loud
From the very heart of me
I can't believe
That you make my heart sing
I'm giving up now
When I've got you in my arms
I don't need anyone else but you

If I came to terms that
You were never coming back,
I'd create a machine that could simulate
The stress in the chest of a full-force heart attack
Never before would I be so awake
In the dark of the night
I'd sit up and say,
"My eyes are open, and I know I'll be okay"

If I could find the one
That I'd never deserve to love
Then I'd keep her in my heart
And let her tear it, tear it apart

[Chorus]

Who am I to even sing this song?
Well, I could be wrong
Maybe you'll never get this
I still think about how we're built inside
How our hearts beat at the same time

You know we are electric

[Chorus]
