In the event you find another

There are some things that I should say

Well every hour you can discover

A love to carry you away

Never mind the lonely pioneer

Who first captured your heart

And who's been broken, bleeding, bruised, and beaten down

And now you're going to tear apart

Chorus:

For your brave new world

For your brave new world

In the event that you should leave here

There are some things that you should know

They say you can't go back for what you've left behind

So please take all your shit

when you go

Chorus

Oh but I think I loved you first

And I even think I loved you best

So please don't every say this was your worst

When you're out there searching for better among the rest

Chorus Repeat
