It tears me down, it leaves me dead, so this is what it's like to be alone.

What smiles display, what eyes betray, this is what it's like to be a joke.

Every time that I get better, I dream we get back together, and my decaying heart, where blood was once boiling, is dying. I'm gathering the courage to heal my wounds, gathering the courage...

It tears me down, it leaves me dead, so this is what it's like to be alone.

What smiles display, what eyes betray, this is what it's like to be a joke.

She's making her way through my body, she's crawling in my veins to see, how it feels like to slowly become a joke

It tears me down, it leaves me dead, so this is what it's like to be alone.

What smiles display, what eyes betray, this is what it's like to be a joke.

Tired of bloody nightmares, friends loyal to no one,
and countless c*.

Every time that I get better, I dream we get back together, and my decaying heart, where blood was once boiling, is dying. I'm gathering the courage to heal my wounds, gathering the courage...
