after....after...after/after...after...after/after...after...after after the rain has fallen after the sun has shined after the thunder and all the pain
it will all be okay
after the thunder crashes after it has all come and gone will you be here still?

after the very last tears has been shed will you still stick around?
even when the world begins to fall apart even when nothing else is going right anymore and the walls are falling down and crumbling down
will you still be around to help me fight away all these fears tell me because i really need to know please dont leave me in the dark dont leave me hanging on the line i dont want to break i dont want to fall apart never want to have to ask you this again its now or never its do or die baby thats how its gonna be this time around

will you be here still?

will you still stick around?

and dont you try to change my mind this is the way the story goes this is the way that the story has to end yeah yeah yeah eah eah eah

after the sun has shined

will you still stick around?

REPEAT CHORUS ONCE MORE;FADING OUT
