been here in this place for far too long and I must pack my bags leave this past life behind to find my place to land got to leave it all in the past

CHORUS: feels like I've been living far too long in this darkness feels like a hurricane(feels like a hurricane, hurricane) I feel so confused and I don't want to be here anymore no, no more feels like a hurricane of lies tearing me apart to see myself in the mirror my mascaras running down my face
