dont you know? dont you see or realize just how much you mean to me dont you understand? that its you that i need for a lifetime
i never want to let you go, never want to let our love fall apart and it may take you a while to get you to smile and laugh again i see you crying so scared and afraid of what the future may hold for you

well baby please believe me when i say that i love you with every beat of this heart of mine
i love you with every beat of this heart of mine
i love you with every beat of this heart of mine theres noone else for me baby you complete me and make me whole again you make my life seem so much brighter this is never how i thought my life would be but im so glad and blessed that i've got you in my life

i love you with every beat of this heart of mine and its true when they say that im crazy about you ever since the very first day that we met your all that i can think about thoughts of you play across my mind and there no way of telling when theyll come and go stop or start all over again all i know is...its you i want all i know is...its you i need all i know is...its you i wanna love forever more

i love you with every beat of this heart of mine

that i love you with every beat of this heart of mine
i love you with every beat of this heart of mine
i love you with every beat of this heart of mine
