if only we could have just last last time just one last chance to tell each other i love you your always on my mind and i cant get you outta my head,cant get you outta my head

its just so hard for me to stop thinking of all the things that could be and i cant stop thinking of you cause baby your all i wanted all my life ive been searching for someone like you you take my breath away im thinking of you,thinking of you baby tell me do you ever think of
me

its so hard not hearing your voice and the place where you used to lay is empty your clothes still lay on the floor in a pile behind the door the baskets fill of your belongings that remind me of you

its just so hard for me to stop thinking of all the things
baby your all i wanted all my life ive been searching for
someone like you you take my breath away im thinking
me
