im looking for a place searching for a face looking for the man that i lost when we said...goodbye goodbye im looking for a place searching for a love one that i can call my own cause i dont have a man to call my love im still standing here still searching for waiting for the right day the right time but am i stuck in the wrong place?

im wondering if ill ever make out of here been so out of love well ever since i felt that bad boi break my heart and now its tearing me apart who knows how it feels to feel so alone?

who knows about this aching heart of mine?
who knows that i need to be loved thats how its meant to be
who knows how it feels to feel so alone?
who knows about this aching heart of mine?
thats how its got to be
