Fly
Fly to me
On the wings of your mind
The wings of your mind
Open up your mind and spread your wings

Free
From your ties
The ties that bind you to your work
And bind you to the earth
And bind you to all these problems

This world is a project this world is a projection
You're projecting
This world is a project this world is a projection
We are all projecting

Open
Open your ears
To the sounds of the universe
The verses of the universe
And every other universe

Close
Close your eyes
Only look within
Only look within
Or look outside the outside

This world is a project this world is a projection
You're projecting
This world is a project this world is a projection
We are all projecting

Dry
Dry your tears
Everything you need is here
All you need is here
Every little thing you need is here

This world is a project this world is a projection
You're projecting

This world is a project this world is a projection
We are all projecting
