I wouldn't mind if I could find*
A little electrocution.
Sometimes I feel I need it here,
A little electrocution.
The wire's hot, lights are red
A sparkle straight to my heart
I'm still livin' in the dark
I'm still livin' in the dark
I wouldn't mind if I could find
A little electrocution.
My despair flows everywhere
To a little electrocution
Spools of coil across the sky
Unraveling out for miles
I've been bangin' on diles (not sure about this word)
I've been bangin' on diles
I wouldn't mind if I could find
A little electrocution.
I need a jolt some thunderbolts
Of a little electrocution
No one loves you like I do
No one loves you like, you know, I do
All there is is beautiful
All there is needs to die
I've been wandering why
I've been wandering why
I wouldn't mind if I could find
A little electrocution.
I'm down quite beneath the light
Of a little electrocution
