When we were young we were naive/ easy to please/didn't question much 'bout love Summers passed we got older, a little bolder, I didn't fit your circle much Your sick of hearing that it's/I promise that it won't be long
It will get better, give it time/ but this won't change right on a dime
I know it feels like you're stuck here

When you got nowhere to run/ I'll be waiting until the stars
Shine bright for you
When you got nowhere to run/ I'll keep waiting until your colors
Shine right through
I know it's hard on you when/ you got nowhere to run

Your treading water it's too deep/ Just can't breathe/
Is it ever good enough
All these battles inside you/ They won't hide you/Just confess I know you're tough These sticks and stone won't take you down/Just keep your head up 'round this town You've got so many things to come/Yeah you're not close or near to done Your voice is loud/ Don't you give up/
I know it feels like you're stuck here

When you got nowhere to run/ I'll be waiting until the
stars
Shine bright for you
When you got nowhere to run/ I'll keep waiting until
your colors
Shine right through
I know it's hard on you when/ you got nowhere to run

I see your pictures and they're painted all in black and blue I've heard the scripture/ It was written on the wall for you I hear you screaming in the night when no one's listening

I'll be waiting until the stars shine bright for you When you got nowhere to run/ I'll keep waiting until your colors shine through

When you got nowhere to run/ I'll be waiting until the
stars

Shine bright for you

When you got nowhere to run/ I'll keep waiting until

Shine right through

I know it's hard on you when/ you got nowhere to run
