i grew up by the river hudson deep and dark as your feet can sink stuck inside the project buildings where the sun can never look at your face you have had special something you could hold the sky with your sound well you had the clouds and you wanted out so you blew this town

chorus:
well i'll just stay right here
oh boy
well i'll just stay here sing me a song
its been too long just you stay right here and when i hear that old train whistle sing i don't bother to look out my window i know there's no where to run for me well our faces
they're all cruddy
from the dust you kicked up with your shoes well you had your way
you just couldn't stay

so don't you come round here
don't you come round here
alone in the mud
oh boy
