You knew me better than anyone ever
And I remember your very first letter
We were so young and all that we wanted was more

We feed each other like rebels on Harley's
And I knew how to enter your body
But at the speed that we drove we were bound to wash out

We flew...

And I could read every word you were thinking
You gave me something I never was given
It was heaven and hell all at once as we laughed, and cried

There always needs to be one that is willin'
To throw a rope down to someone who's slippin'
But sometimes you gotta know when to let it go...

[X2]

We flew, rockets to the sun
Knowin' we'd crash and burn
That's the risk we run when you fall, in love

Rockets to the sun
Knowin' we'd crash and burn
That's the risk we run when you fall, in love

We flew, rockets to the sun
Knowin' we'd crash and burn
That's the risk we run when you fall, in love

In love, in love, in love, in love...

We flew rockets to the sun
Knowin' we would crash and burn
We flew rockets to the sun
Knowin' we would crash and burn
