How do you always know what I will say?
You seem to know me in the clearest way
I want to run and hide, keep you from finding me
You shouldn't see, what is my mystery

But with the timing right
It could be paradise
To do this now
Would not be right

I was just fine, yes I was fine I thought
I didn't think that I would get so lost
To have and not to hold and to pretend I'm cold
It is a lie 'cause I melt every time

And in my fantasy
You're right there next to me
But to do this now
Would not be right

So stay away from me
You're better off to stay as far from loving me
Just stay a fantasy
In the dark, in the night and in my dreams
