Kshe'telech la'shemesh
Etze basade hamuzhav, Boker ve'erev
Yare'ach yair et panai, She'cholmot col hayom rak alecha.

Kshe'tavoh, tisa oti bishtei yadeicha,

If you go, who will hug me like this,
Who will listen to me at the end of a day,
Who will calm and comfort me,
Only you know how

And if you go, who will I wait for from the windowsill, in a holiday skirt, so That when he arrives, he'll hug me like you do when you arrive

When you go, I will go out unto the sun, to the gilded field, morning and night,
A moon will illuminate my face, that dreams, all day,
only of you

And when you arrive, you'll lift me up and carry me in both your hands, from the Field to the river, you'll wash my face and speak words unto me, that only you Know how
