I may never live the life of fame and fortune
And you may never find my name in history
But if I have it all I'd still have nothing
If I didn't have you here loving me

All I want is to hear you say you need me
All I need is for you to want me too
Just as long as I can love you
Then I'll never ask for more
Cause all I ever really want to be is yours

Time can burn the brightest flame down to an ember
And leave you cold and lonely in the storm
But if we hold on tight and keep it going
When the cold wind blows our love will keep us warm

All I want is to hear you say you need me
All I need is for you to want me too
Just as long as I can love you
Then I'll never ask for more
Cause all I ever really want to be is yours

All I ever really want to be is yours
