(written by Sonya Isaacs and Keith Sewell)

Barely got the key into the door
I spilled all my papers on the floor
You came running from the den
I tried to pull myself together
But I couldn't hold it in
Been one of those days again

(Chorus)

And I need healing hands to hold me tonight
'Cause in your arms all the wrongs seem right
I surrender all when you're holding me tight
Resting in your healing hands
I should've left my troubles back in town
I shouldn't let my worries weigh you down
Baby, you're the only strength I need
When my world comes crashing in
You're always there for me
To help me back upon my feet

(Repeat Chorus twice)

Resting in your healing hands
