Floating Through The Myths Of My Own Conciseness never has it ever been a phase i will not remember wishing to remain the same

I watched her disappear into the abyss you i will miss this i did explain she had braces let all around her wrists and when i let her go she finds fire now shes a flame

In the days of her plays and her satire she don't need the keys when she can hot wire your brain and the smoke won't raise any higher and the fire's burnin words that i exclaim

shine or rain
we are both to blame
shine (Bo!) or rain
we are both to blame

shine (Bo!) or rain
