Mubarak pumping the TV full of fear
Not knowing the power of technology until it was too late
A people's Revolution in Tahrir Square
Was hope to seal away his evil fate

Pause us for some silence
Forget what you once saw
Cause we rock it and we roll it
From the sun set till the dawn

There's no sleep cause Egypt's un-resting
People aligning the streets in Cairo
The protest proved worth under the father time testing
And it's the end of the reign of the pharaoh...

Pause us for some silence
Forget what you once saw
Cause we rock it and we roll it
From the sun set till the dawn

Can't free your soul
If you try and run and hide
Power corrupts control:
Under the all seeing eye...
