Farewell, goodbye my friend

Gotta go, gotta turn my back now
Gotta leave tonight

Moving on is a painful mission to make things right

There's a time, there's a time for breakup and to leave behind
We created a situation that made us blind

Don't waste your time

It's a little too late to call me now
I'm already set to leave this town
Forgive doesn't mean to stay around
Accepting the punches and the lies

And it's a little too late to ask me why
We just gotta leave the past behind

You say you are sorry and so am I
But it's a little too late to call me now

Gotta go, gotta take the hard way
Gotta stand my ground

Stepping in on a new foundation with you behind

Run away, run away means nothing
When you've lost your goal

Gotta push it another level
Really take retain control
Don't waste your time

It's a little too late to call me now
I'm already set to leave this town
Forgive doesn't mean to stay around
Accepting the punches and the lies

And it's a little too late to ask me why

We just gotta leave the past behind

You say you are sorry and so am I
But it's a little too late to call me now

Please do not pretend that we are fine
You can never feel this heart of mine, oh no
Don't come back to say that everything will be ok
That means you've lost me along the way

It's a little too late to call me now
I'm already set to leave this town
Forgive doesn't mean to stay around
Accepting the punches and the lies

And it's a little too late to ask me why
We just gotta leave the past behind

You say you are sorry and so am I
But it's a little too late to call me now

Forgive doesn't mean to stay around
Accepting the punches and the lies

And it's a little too late to ask me why
We just gotta leave the past behind

You say you are sorry and so am I
But it's a little too late to call me now
