i can't sleep these days and my blues they won't go away so there are these little pills i've been taking and my doctor she says that they're safe but i've been sleeping walking down to the lake and waking up in the water and the feelings are and the snake it bit me when i wasn't awake

Well, I don't believe in double vision and I don't think that two heads are better than one and I can see is ouroboros when my pet snakes are sizing me up and if you don't believe in destiny then take what you're given you and I got caught between magic and business we walked in on you while you were polishing your knives (while your eyes were turning green) sleeping in a twin bed with a serpent by your side (are you trying to compete with me) talk a lot of shit, but you would never start a fight (_____ about killin' me)

God it makes me queasy when you smile (smile, through your jealousy) and I don't believe in suckin' your way to the top fingers crossed, you're flipping me off no, I don't need your supervision i'll sink this ship if I want and if you don't believe in chemistry then what were we doing you and i had everything from ____ to ruin everytime you come around I have to run and hide (and your eyes, are they bleedin?) I get claustrophobic even when I am outside (Are you trying? Gonna hurt something)

I thought we were brothers man, I thought that we were tight (but your dog, it's so evil) sucking at the venom from your bite (as you poison me)

hey dad... hello?
And I don't believe paradise is lost I say this with my fingers crossed and if you don't believe in prophesy this ceremony's finished you and I tried everything from heroin to Guinness two thousand and nine, it was a bastard of a year (___ pass the joint to me) I can not get stoned no more, I only get the fear (but these hives, they are killin' me) we could have it out or we could have another beer (I could lie, so evil) all the best of luck with your career
