VERSE 1

How can one catch the wind and hold its power inside
Reach out and take in hand the beauty of the skies
How can you harness the abundance of the deep
Or hide the infinite within humanity
But what I find deep inside of me

CHORUS

Feels like the heavens
Have chosen my heart to be their home
As if the oceans
Have emptied themselves into my soul
And all the stars that fill the sky
Have given me their light
It feels like the heavens
Since you came into my life

VERSE 2

Who can contain the majesty of morning light
Capture and hold within the glory of the night
Since when can paradise inhabit souls of men
How else can I explain this passion that I have, that

CHORUS

Feels like the heavens
Have chosen my heart to be their home
As if the oceans
Have emptied themselves into my soul
And all the stars that fill the sky
Have given me their light
It feels like the heavens
Since you came into my life

BRIDGE

How can I describe
When time and space collide
And join all heaven and nature
Here inside me

CHORUS

The heavens have made my heart their home
The oceans have poured into my soul

And all of the stars that fill the sky
Have given me their light
It feels like the heavens
Since you came into my life
