Thought you were taking my breath away,
But I was really only suffocating
Thought you were taking my pain away
But deep inside my heart was breaking

All my tears fall down like rain,
I feel like I could go insane

I've got a long way to go so I better stop falling
Better break before you catch me
I've got a long way to go so I better stop falling
Better break before you catch me

Reassure me with a scream
Baby, I'm the girl of your bad dreams
I'm a one piece puzzle, I don't need
Someone else to make me feel complete now

All my tears fall down like rain,
I feel like I could go insane

I've got a long way to go so I better stop falling
Better break before you catch me
I've got a long way to go so I better stop falling
Better break before you catch me

I've got a long way to go so I better stop falling
Better break before you catch me
I've got a long way to go so I better stop falling
Better break before you catch me
Better break before you catch me
Better break before you catch me
