

Jets Overhead

"I Should Be Born"

Visit "I Should Be Born" on MotoLyrics.com

Labels warning to use with permission
Look inside of me, conflicts, conditions
Don't lose sight of the lessons you're given
No sign or prescription can make you young again

All looks well if you just know the outside
Hide the tears that get shed in the nighttime
Don't lose sight of the map and the seasons
Let go of conditions that steal your mind away

Living on an island
Take your time when
Walking on the water
'Cause now we're running from our homes

One side of me knows where the path went
I could lead but I'm too inconsistent
Don't lose sight of the eyes that you're given
No conflicts, conditions can take your sight away

Living on an island
Take your time when
Walking on the water
'Cause now we're running from our homes

You were drowning
When you should have flown
I've been dying when I should be born
I should be born

If you struggle in logic and feeling
Generational gaps are revealing
Don't lose sight of the ones who have loved you
You're only as strong as the love that built you

Visit Jets Overhead page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.