Hey there little flower, how do you grow
Does the sun light your power,
I gotta know
I gotta know more, know more than you
Hello little star, I spied on you
They say youâ€™re a million miles away
Tell me is that true, causeâ€™!
I gotta know more, know more than you
I went to the circus and I saw this bear
He was riding a bicycle trying to be human
We all laughed cause we knew he couldnâ€™t do it
We ask the questions then make all our own answers up
Hello Lord, I got your number now
It took me a while but I figured you out
And now
I know more, know more than you
Now I know more,
I know more than any god in the hell or heavens knows
I know more than anybody could ever know
I know more, more is the science of this world
I finally understand, it cant be understood
I finally understand the good Lord canâ€™t be understood
