When the rest of the world is asleep

Do you remember that night when you and me
Pulled down the steeple of ash
The rain was coming down, I was filthy and black?
Sometimes I feel that my time
On earth is sorta defined
And my life is calling me

And I wonder what else it could be
There are times that I see and don't see
Sometimes I feel that I'm changed
By those women on the hill in the rain
In this vision of earthly decay

I see that time will bear us all away
But I'm sad I won't be here to see it fade
