When was the last time that you cried? and everything inside wasn't locked up so tight you're so unorganized and scared but so am i but tonight, as bullets fly, and my heart is rendered useless...you used to make me so alive. you're breaking me they want us all to get in line and die for them. die for them and i guess it's what's expected but i'll break this. we'll break this? we'll break this down for a while come to my rooftop and you'll see. and have a drink on me how does it feel? well you're so different. we're so different (enemies?) but then how was i to know. just all everything about your world? (our own cold war. did you just blink and twitch?) how was i to know? they want us all to get in line and die for them. die for them and i guess it's what's expected but i'll break this. we'll break this. we'll break this there's a fire in our hearts. they want to put out we're living off the faint. and haunting.... sound that keeps us wanting. that keeps us wanting. more you'll never get it. you don't get...
