This is a story
About love Baby!
She was a sixteen girl
And the Prince enters the stage with a grimace!

After just one glance it was a knockout!
Oh! Boy! destiny! Boy!
My heart's been captured!
And it's name is rocking horse!!

But no money nobody knows the dream expands
Not truth no education oh my god, I fed up myself
No control no there's no control
I've completely forgotten the face of my Prince!

Right now time has passed
And I've already become a bit of a Lady!
On the day we met
I put my hope in a hoof and prayed!

But the New arrival is a knockout!
Oh! my! de-ja vu! you
My bare feet aren't used to this strange power
And it's name is rocking horse!

But no money nobody knows I've been fascinating
Not truth no education oh my god, I fed up myself
No control no there's no control
The world overflows with love

No! No! No! no money nobody knows my dream is reached
Not truth no education oh my god, I fed up myself
No control no it's impossible to control!
Together with all the love in the world
But no money nobody knows the dream expands
Not truth no education oh my god, I fed up myself
No control no there's no control
I figured I'd forget my Prince's face!
