Stand before you with no heart
These scars hold all the meaning and become a boundless way with you Heaven knows I'd help you drag a body through the mud hell two or three
You are my sacred blasphemy
And I'd do anything I could

I'd even take away the breath for good
In the dying of the light
Love crawls up inside
And the flesh is a torn and pretty sight

I'm lost like a secret that forgot where it was keeping

Still receiving whispers of night
Destiny demonstrate Nothing lives beyond it's fate
Destroyed in the final hour

And I know you need more
So I step aside let life come between us
I dig into the dirt
I had never known something to kill for
