

Nakatomi Plaza

"Bike Rock Revolution"

Visit "Bike Rock Revolution" on MotoLyrics.com bike rock revolution and pot smoke conclusions at 2 am and we're eating again at the same place we ate last night and i say we should have shared the fries what's yours is mine did you know there's a fence around every last mile of the U$A we're not ok we're breaking down together so lock up all your doors and pack up your belongings we're heading to the shore and try cleaning up the mess that other people left the pile is piling up and now it's over our heads do we fall asleep instead? so what we never knew and to think we're going on in circles eat again sleep instead we're breaking down together so lock up all your doors and pack up your belongings we're heading to the shore and try cleaning up the mess that other people left the pile is piling up and now it's over our heads do we fall asleep instead? so what we never knew and we'll never know what if we never awoke? never awoke again? what if?

Visit Nakatomi Plaza page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.