Fuck all this posturing, I'll smash this guitar into two Hearts broken, sliced for us to eat, last one out is the
First to leave

A cancer ride, the culture's made of rain
So we slip and slide, and then we start again

I'm dreaming homesick, I'm drinking just the same
You're driving far boy, you're driving us away

Hearts broken sliced for us to eat, last one out is the
First to leave

A cancer ride, the culture's made of rain
So we slip and slide, and then we start again

It's in the room, get nervous now, and buy your way out
We'll play it cool, now pay it up

You said you'd never, of course you're willing tonight
You said you'd never, of course you're willing inside
