When nothing breaks your fall but the cold hard ground and you're hurting in your soul and nobody's around do you think of me
when you're searching in the dark and you can't find the light and you need someone just to hold you tight do you wait for me
do you wait for me
you were there when I was up in the sky when I was down in the dust you gave me a smile said this ain't nothing it's just for a while only for a while

when it rains so hard that you're soaked to the bone and you shiver inside cause you're cold as a stone will you call on me you can call on me you were there when I was out of my mind when I could find nothing to say that was kind you said this is easy, it's just for a while only for a while
