Im desperate for you,
Honestly I see you
My soul thirst for you
And my body longs for you
I humble myself before you
And forever ill run too

Jump out the shower
God dressed gotta look great tonight
Sprayed cologne better clean my room
I got a date tonight
Love of my life, we got a secret place
Ill seek you there
I get exited, cant hide it
Can't wait to meet you there
Cause you give me much love
I just can't get enough of
I shown off, turn my phone off
So no one interrupt us..
Im not looking at the clock
I wanna get loves in you
I don't want it to stop
I just want it to continue
You so great
I love how we communicate
My heart my soul and mind
Ill laid a dime for you to take
I got a yearn and desire
It is you who I need
And it's burning like fire
I want you to be pleased
You know me better then I know myself
I trust you like I trust no one else
You make me feel like ive never felt
The sweet things you tell me make me melt
We getting intimate
You got me in to it
Your the king im the servant
Whatever you say ill do it

Every single night and day
In your arms I wanna stay

Im running running im running to your presence
Your the one that I adore everything I have is yours
im running running im running to your presence
And you got me feeling im sick because im in love
Got me running running im running to your presence
And you know im so in love and you know im so in love..

Is in your presence where I grow where I nourish where I flourish

In your presence I get bold I gain courage and endurance

I gain wisdom I gain strength that's the reason why im standing

And the peace and joy I get surpasses my understanding

No replacing so amazing a place I seek your face is strong

Tower around my fortunes is a place that I am safe in It's your presence that excels me that propels me and compels me

You possess me over taking sub through me and overwhelm me

So tell me who can hug me better tell me who can love me better

Tell me who does me better got me writing love letters

When no one cares you care for me

When no one's there you're there for me

Run crying like a baby to you when the world ain't fair to me

Your fragrance sweet like honey unforgettable its radical

No one will take it from me incredible incompatible

I thank you for your blessing I thank you for your loving

Im great full for your presence without you I am nothing

Every single night and day

In your arms I wanna stay

Im running running im running to your presence

You're the one that I adore everything I have is yours

Im running im running to your presence

And you got me feeling im sick because im in love

Got me running running im running to your presence

And you know im so in love and you know im so in love..

Your mercy goes on and on and your grace goes on and on

Your love goes on and on and on

Every single night and day

In your arms I wanna stay

Im running running im running to your presence

Your the one that i adore everything i have is yours
Im running running im running to your presence
And you got me feening im sick because im in love
Got me running running im running to your presence
And you know im so in love and you know im so in love..
