Tell me baby, where were you last night were you out with that man?

Does he give you everything you want does he really understand?

I'm still trying to find my place in line, now that everything is said and done

The sharpest sword and the sweetest wine the greatest battle I never won?

(Chorus)

But I can't hold on to you there's a look in your eye like you got something to prove?

Either stay or go away, I think it's time for you to choose
I can feel you now, but I can't hold on to you!

(guitar interlude)

(Verse 2)

Call me crazy if it makes thing right all the little things you put me through!

But there I go
I'm living the life I'm living, so you're forgiven
now go do what you need to do

(Chorus)

But I just can't hold on to you there's a look in your eye like you've got something to prove

Either say or go away, I think it's time for you to choose
I can feel you now, but I can't hold on to you

I can feel you now, but I can't hold on to you

I can feel you now, but I can't hold on to you
