(Verse 1)

Well I guess that you could say that I have not been the same

And I'll admit that I've been looking the other way

But now that everything is done with a love that once was fun

I wonder if I should get up on my feet again, yeah

(Chorus)

And try to love again
Yea try to love again

(Verse 2)

Well I've opened up my eyes and I've finally realized

as fast as it left it can all come back again

Yeah, that little funny feeling that you used to know and you're not quite sure if it's right to show
so you keep it all in and hope it never ends

(Chorus)

That's why I'll try to love again. Yea, try to love again all right!

(Transition riff to bridge)

Well I'm not in no big hurry, and there's no need to worry time will tell if this treasure's right for me.
Oh, but I wanna know is her heart made of gold?
I guess I'll just have to wait and see maybe she'll come run with me? But I'm never gonna know

(Chorus)

Unless I try to love again!
Yeah try she's telling you to try and love again
oh, right!

(Do doots & de deets out)
