Wide eyed girl
New to the world
You think that you are grown
Running round out in the world
Thinking that
You're all alone
You're not wise but wild
I think that you're confused
Acting like you know it all
But in truth
You're being used

Change you're mind girl
Go home
To your mamma's house
You can't make it own your own

Change your're mind girl
Go home
To your mamma's house
The place where you belong

Take some time to look around
And choose who you wanna be
The street the sounds and city lights
Make you think that's what you need

I know I know it's hard
At home
And you got a troubled life
But dramas gonna find you girl and you need to make it right so now.

Change you're mind girl
Go home
To your mamma's house
You can't make it own your own

Change you're mind girl
Go home
To your mamma's house

The place where you belong

The world is not the place you think it is
Do you know who really are your friends
Where will you go to make your ends
Wanna know
You can still go
Home
Go on home little girl

Change your mind
