Seems everyday there's someone
Telling me how to live my life
And making judgments bout me
Saying I ain't living right
But they don't know me
Who I am and where I wanna be
Situations getting tricky
It's getting harder to be free

Black or white
With whom you sleep
You know it
Really don't matter to me

If you choose to Pray
Or just to play
In the end you know we
Share the same needs

To live together
To love
To eat
To breathe

People make the world go round

Seems everyday it's getting harder
For me to survive
It makes me question
Bout tomorrow almost every night

But I'm checking
The negative
Images seen
Gotta keep on movin
On life's possibilities

Black or white
With whom you sleep
You know it
Really don't matter to me

If you choose to Pray
Or just to play
In the end you know we
Share the same needs

To live together
To love
To eat
To breathe

People make the world go round
