I know sometimes
That in life
There's gonna be oh some trials
But I know this is also true that
That the sky is always blue

There will be
Some days in time
When joyful hearts
Will rule your mind
And those days they are the ones
That help you make it through

And we need love in the hard times
Someone to believe in us
When there is nothing and the
World seems upside down
And there is no love in our hearts and
We are feeling all alone

But its then
That there is something
That will make everything all right
What we need above all else
All we're needing then
Is unconditional Love

Some things will stay
Some things will change
But in our hearts
Some things remain
Love for that will be true
A life to share with you
And in those days
Some good and bad
We would not trade the times we shared
But laugh outloud and never cry alone
Within my arms you've found a home
And we need love in the hard times
Someone to believe in us
When there is nothing and the
World seems upside down

And there is no love in our hearts and
We are feeling all alone

But its then
That there is something
That will make everything all right
What we need above all else
All we're needing then
Is Unconditional Love
