And I don't hear you anymore
And I can't see you on the floor
It's like a nightmare come to life
But don't be frightened of the light
And all the days you pushed around
And all the times you lied to yourself
And all the dreams we had just might
Breakdown
Breakdown
And I wonder who you love really love
You know I want you too much
You know it kills me the thought
I want to scream I want to cry
Just to save myself just one last time
And all the days you pushed around
And all the times you lied to yourself
And all the dreams we had just might
Breakdown
Breakdown
And I wonder who you love really love
And all the days you pushed around
And all the times you lied to yourself
And all the dreams we had just might
Breakdown
Breakdown
Breakdown
And I wonder who you love really love
