

J. Stricklin

"Movie Of Memories"

Visit "Movie Of Memories" on MotoLyrics.com

Listen to me, strangers we've become
And all that we had has been lost in this life's gone
And I'm tired and I'm all out of words
Cause I thought that by now you'd forgotten all that you heard

Lately, I'm not sleeping
Cause I don't want to dream
Every time I lay my head down to rest, your face is all I see
But you recall the story all too well
To face it now makes me nervous as hell

But if I could remove this skin
For once I could prove how my hearts over beaten
And how I long to cast you the movie of memories
I keep of you

I remember sunny coastal days
And four a.m. dives they remind me how time flies
Was I running?
From what I don't know
A future fearing past or bygones gone by so slow

But if I could remove this skin
For once I could prove how my hearts over beaten
And how I long to cast you the movie of memories
I keep of you

The distance between us makes the heart grow fonder
I guess that never applied to us
Cause this resistance I'm feeling, now that I'm older
Is far too thick to cut

But if I could remove this skin
For once I could prove how my hearts over beaten
And how I long to cast you the movie of memories
I keep of you

Visit J. Stricklin page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

