She'll be gone tomorrow morning
Watch the sun rise then leave
Breathe the air one last time
Photographed memories left behind

Now she's gone, things aren't the same
This city weeps its rain and rain
Pain, pain go away
Come again some other day

Part with the peace that's part of me
Part with the peace that's part of me

Staring at the star lit sea
My sand filled heart speaks to me
When we see eye to eye
We'll be two stars shining side by side

Part with the peace that's part of me
Part with the peace that's part of me

I've seen trouble and I've seen pain
Nothing like this before
I've seen trouble and I've seen pain
Nothing like this before
Nothing like this before
And I step out into the rain
Oh, and when I step into out in the rain
Oh, when I step out into the rain I feel you, I feel you on me

I awake in my bed
From the dreams dancing in my head
I still feel sad from that last smile
That you gave, you gave to me
