Don't waste your time on things that won't make you grow
the tube will tell you honey all you need to know welcome to the cast and crew of night of the living dead.

No more second chances - look at all this mess no bad news I wanna hear about success all the stories seem to end up being the very same thread.

(damn damn damn)
You'll always need effective things to say
(damn damn damn)
Better shape up this is the game we play
(damn damn damn)
Don't worry they will bleep you out anyway

Often we tend to get so easily spoiled with power of our minds and love for our soil maybe it's just something there to keep us sane and make sense.

And maybe you have never really thought of that time will end and everything will fall apart you'll be left with nothing but your awareness of the consequences.

(damn damn damn)
You threaten hell but if I go to hell
(damn damn damn)
I'll write a song about going to hell
(damn damn damn)
It'll make my day now does that ring your bell?

I've reached my conclusions and went on a road looking for your input but you were never there Holy Grail won't find itself but are you truly interested?

Now you can go complaining about how you lack passion

oh darling passion is something taht likes to be conquered
just like love
like life
