Hate grows,
Breaking hearts.
Beg and supplicate,
But there's no forgiving sins of all the dreams you stole.

You're the same old songs,
Bitter smile in heart.
'Cause no one can,
Let the tidal waves go their way,
In this unkind goodbye.

Suffering 'till no emotions can sense hope,
They gifted you a black heart.
Are they gone to see the end?

These kind of eyes wide move in my way,
Somehow you blow all the reasons away.
These faults, all these tears,
Won't bring me back today.
All these lies that I left behind.

Time figures that you're wrong.
Can't you see?
Bring all your lies to me,
Bring them.
Why don't you want to put this to an end?
What of the vow we had?
Liar.

Wait to swear.
You don't know a thing about it.
I owe you nothing more.
Fainted heart.

She walks as if the rain proceeds few steps behind her,
(Accept the loneliness).
She moves with all the winds and all the clouds upon her,
(Give her a chance).
She beats time to the tidal waves,
(Choosing moments) choosing moments, rhythm of my breath.

And she calls me with no name,
And she finds so hard to stay here,
Will all these middle times give us a will?
'Cause there's more than a way.
But without you there's no other side.

Back in her sleepless nightmares,
She sucks the pain.
When do I make her know that she's rid?
Draw them a portrait of suspicion for you.
If I died would you say what you did to me?
And nothing more, and nothing more.
But what rests today makes a follower,
They are nothing to me.
