Here she comes through the mist
Here she comes through the night
And you can tell by the way she smiles, she's on fire
And what are you gonna do, what are you gonna do with your mind?

Over in the meadow she will keep you from your sleep
Over where the sea turns to stars
Over by the window underneath the silver moon
She will teach you all her mystic charms
And here she comes

You were lost, now you're found
Locked away underground
But she can tell by the way you sigh, you'll be fine
And what are you gonna do, what are you gonna do with your time?

Over in the meadow she will keep you from your sleep
Over where the sea turns to stars
Over by the window underneath the silver moon
She will teach you all her mystic charms
Over in the meadow she will keep you from your sleep
Over where the sea turns to stars
Over by the window underneath the silver moon
She will teach you all her mystic charms
And here she comes
