

Kara Johnstad "Different Planes"

Visit "Different Planes" on MotoLyrics.com

DIFFERENT PLANES

music and lyrics by Kara Johnstad

CD Paths X

On different planes of different times
I walk this earth, my head in the sky
Never quite knowing, where when or why

Is it just a coincidence?
Just passing some time?
Or is there a mystery in the divine.

My friends are having children
My grandma's preparing to die
And as I get in the car, for the long ride home
In emptiness I cry

Throated knotted, my eyes dissolve
In the blackness of the night
The moon light carries me
Reflecting on different planes of different times
We're on different planes of different times
Different planes of different times
Different planes of different times
:
Houses left, childhood dreams abandoned,
A father I hardly knew
I've had a wealth of friends who've come and gone
The nakedness of truth

Yet strangely enough I cherish
The black and empty sky and I know I am walking closer to God with every painful good - bye

Refrain:

Reflecting on different planes of different times
Different planes of different times
Different planes of different times

Visit Kara Johnstad page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
